NEWTONIAN

FOREWORD

A BOOK as high as the Trylon and as thick as the Perisphere could completely encompass every phase of Newton life. But the "Newtonian" attempts to condense all this into one hundred and seventy-six pages. This is a difficult job.

We present, then, the result of our labors, limited as they have been by both time and finances. By a record of more formal activities we have tried to recall memories of an unlimited subject — life at Newton High. If we have succeeded, even in the slightest degree, we shall feel well rewarded.

Here is the "Newtonian."

PAUL EDGAR ELICKER
PROGRESSIVE PRINCIPAL OF A MODERN SCHOOL
WE,
REALIZING NEWTON'S LOSS AND WASHINGTON'S GAIN,
DEDICATE THIS "NEWTONIAN"

MR. RAYMOND A. GREEN

A faculty member since 1933, the Assistant Principal of Newton High School has traveled extensively in Europe. Mullenberg College and Columbia University gave him his A.B. and M.A. degrees. Thence he went to Harvard for more study and finally took courses at Leiden University in war-torn Holland. His teaching experience has included schools in Rhode Island and Pennsylvania. A student of the German educational systems, an avid theatrical fan, and a four-letter man at college, Mr. Raymond Green is an all-round man.

NEWTON

“OUR Schoolmaster, then, is one who perforce practices plain living and high thinking. He is required to be, if possible, as learned as a Don, as athletic as a Fry, as genteel as a physician, as upright as a bank manager, as moral as a parson. His duties are never ended. He is expected and readily accepts the obligation to regard all that is connected with the school as his concern.” Dr. J. E. Crees.

Being a teacher must be a difficult task. A teacher at Newton is an especially remarkable person because on him rests a large part of the unusual burden of maintaining a much talked-of, long-praised, and greatly envied reputation. Many of these teachers give time and energy in directing the programs of school clubs; a large number coach school sports; some direct dramatics; some are class advisers. All of them have high teaching qualifications since they are a part of a highly rated organization.

Row Three: Mr. Paige, Misses Owens, Twiss, Shippee, Smith, Nute, Lund, White, Rogers, Lee, Miller, Malambre, Mr. S. Williams.

Row Two: Miss Thumin, Mrs. Newcomb, Misses Rideout, Richardson, Richmond, Leiter, Southard, White, Murray, Waldmeyer, Stone, Mayo, Simon.

Seated: Mr. Peterson, Misses Leathers, South, Mr. Maxim, Miss Wetherbee, Messrs. Green, Elicker, Thurber, Miss Riley, Mr. Mergendahl, Miss Myles, Messrs. Steinhope, Simmons.

FACULTY

The Faculty of Newton High is divided into eleven departments, as follows: Business Education, English, French, Guidance, Home Economics, Latin, Mathematics, Music, Physical Education, Science, and Social Studies. Their respective heads are Mr. Maynard Maxim, Mr. Samuel Thurber, Miss Gertrude Myles, Miss Cora Riley, Miss Jeannie Kenrick, Dr. George Land, Mr. Charles Mergendahl, Mr. Haydn Morgan, Mrs. Grace Kuntz and Mr. Frank Simmons, Mr. Charles Harrington, and Mr. Horace Kidger. These Department Heads with the subject teachers make up a total staff of one hundred and twenty.

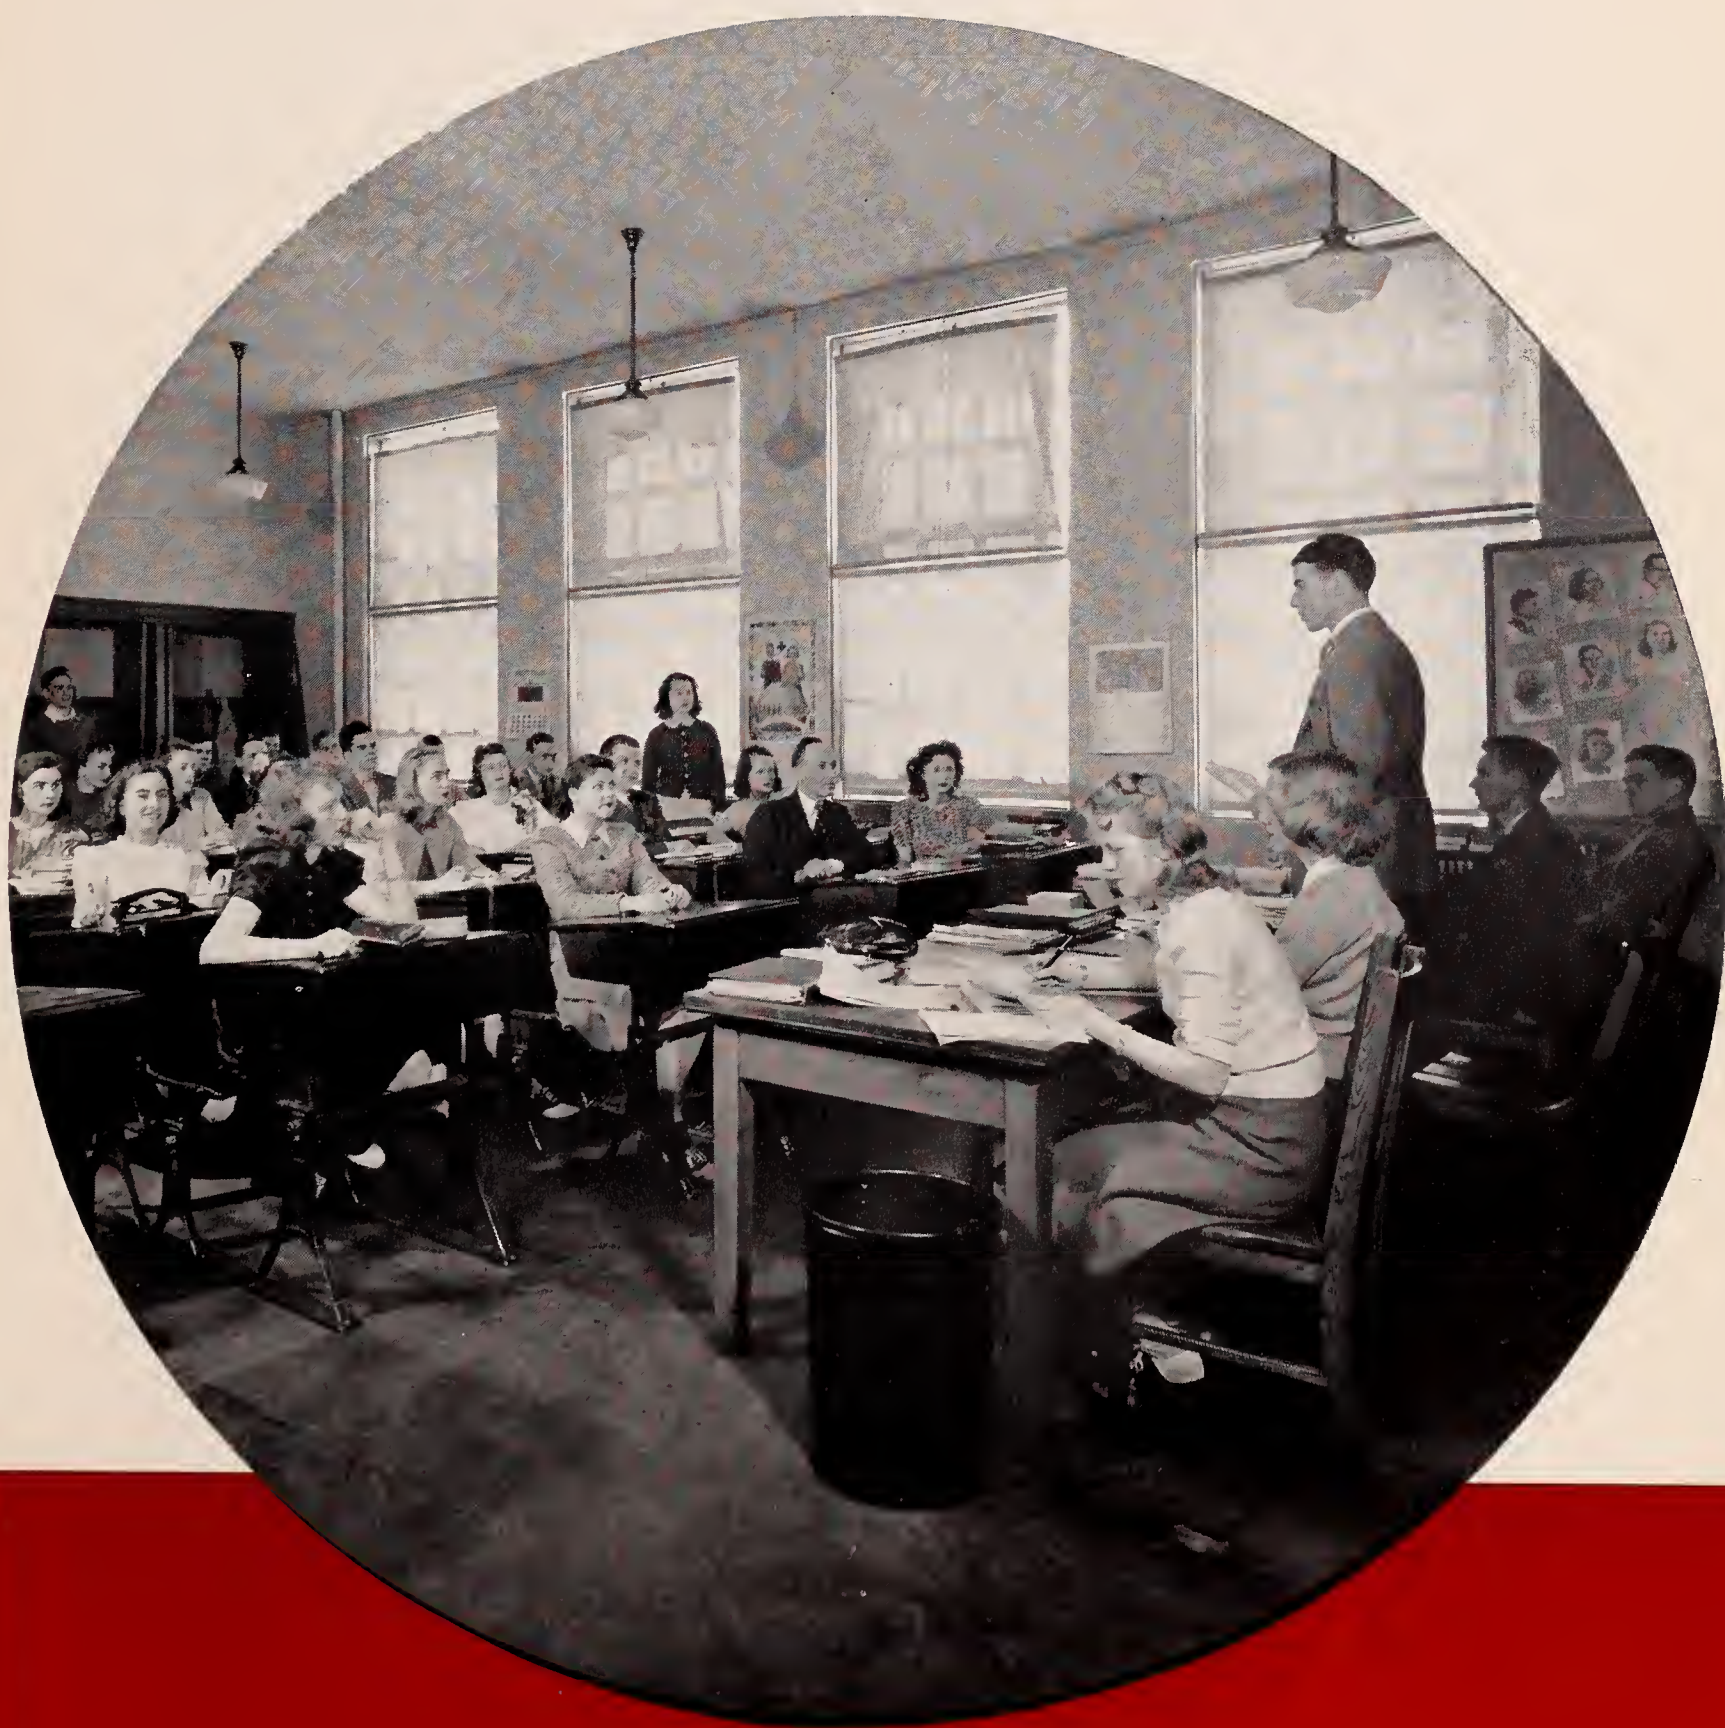

"The worst for care and undeserved abuse,
The first in real dignity and use,
(If skilled to teach and diligent to rule)
Is the learned master of a students' school."

Sir John Adams.

KITTREDGE FISHER
First Vice-President

THREE years are not so long, now that they are a part of the past. When they stretched ahead into the future, they seemed interminable. But in June, 1940, a Senior at Newton High remembers the span of years as no more than a flash — a flash which was full of thoughts and events, full of indescribable “busyness” and of unending good times.

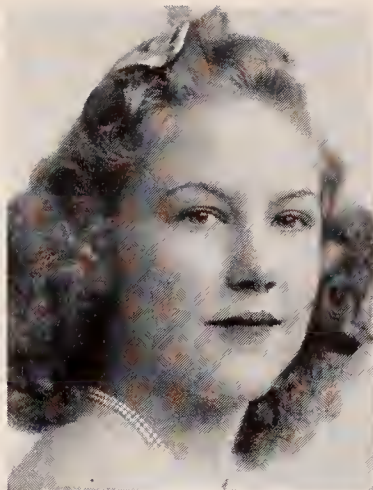

For these blessings, a Senior owes credit to his teachers and advisers. Without their sometimes stern guidance and their perpetual friendship, high school would have had little significance for him. More important than this, however, he owes to himself the realization that the best he has gained from high school may be accredited to his own side of the ledger; that whatever knowledge his teachers may have instilled into him, however carefully they may have guided his mental footsteps, his high school career amounted to success or failure because he — largely alone — made it so.

The years ahead will prove how much Newton High has meant to every Senior.

POST GRADUATES

Adviser Miss Anne Leathers

THE Post-Graduate class is composed of students who find that extra units of work will be necessary for entrance to college or school for specialized training. Because of the need for intensified study, all extra-curricular activities except musical organizations are closed to these students. Some, however, have acquired valuable experience in office management by assisting Mr. Foster in Building 1.

There has been a higher grade of scholarship in the results of this year's work; the class, on the fourth marking period, had the highest percentage of honor students of all classes in the school. Here is proof that 1939-1940 has been a success for the post-graduate under the guidance of Miss Anne Leathers.

NEWEST sport at Newton is one of world's oldest dates to 2000 B.C. in Scandinavia according to Norse sagas Skiing took United States by storm in early 1930's adopted as sport in Newton High in 1936 has developed increased interest every year since This season shows impressive record 9 firsts, 7 seconds, 5 thirds, and 3 fourths in competition with twenty-six schools Season's high spots: team wins every skiing event at Walpole Winter Sports Carnival Captain Reid wins highest individual honors at Mt. Hood and breaks existing school-boy jump mark with 70-foot leap Entire team performs impressively in cross-country, downhill, slalom, and jumping OPTIMISTIC outlook of Newton's baseball team darkens early in season as injuries and ineligibilities hit key players of six returning let-termen, only one plays regularly throughout season Pitching, the doubtful department at season's opening, is ably handled by Gallagher and Ravinsky Seniors on squad include N. Coletti, Rezzuti, Gallagher, Heath, Goodband, Hurley, Keating hitting of team below normal in first games, but increases as season goes on Coach "Jeff" Jones engineers many changes in line-up to find winning combination Season's record to date: one win and five defeats Games all close, exciting, well-played, draw enthusiastic crowds hopes high for sweeping remaining games

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS

EXTENSIVE intra-mural sports program for girls continued this year throughout school season opportunity given all girls to participate in variety of athletic activities School provides much new equipment for recently introduced sports Lacrosse, golf, archery—in fact, all sports have finest facilities available Policy of Physical Education Department to give girls the type of sporting curricula that they desire Golf added this year by request Each day in week devoted to different sport, girls may benefit by more than one

GOLF

GOLF makes its first appearance as intra-mural sport at Newton Supervised by Miss Harper, it becomes a real favorite among the girls

Twice weekly, technique is taught at the school with practice mats and balls the chance is given girls actually to play on nearly every golf course much improvement noted to date

ARCHERY

FALL and spring afternoons find many cheerful archers out shooting at the “butts” individual instruction increases accuracy greatly, provides real exercise Mrs. Kuntz advises every girl to come out whether she has had previous experience or not Play Days held with public and private schools alike; girls meet fellow “Maid Marions,” compete in shooting matches, compare scores, discuss fine points Sport proves one of most successful and most interesting at Newton

BASEBALL

WHEN baseball is in the air, the girls are not to be outdone by the boys . . . every spring, the sport draws an increased number of feminine participants . . . In sport festivals, split teams, partly of players of one school, partly of players of another, compete together . . . in this way, emphasis on good fun and sportsmanship rather than on intense competition . . . Class teams are chosen, play inter-class games . . . all around, baseball is considered among the most enjoyable sports (by the girls) . . .

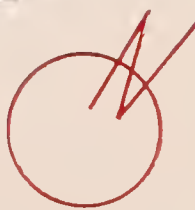

SOCCER

EACH fall, soccer draws a large group of would-be "booters" . . . first few weeks are spent in practice . . . expert coaching on the essential of the game is given . . . girls soon develop skill in dribbling, kicking, and team play . . . Class teams are selected for inter-class tournament . . . winning team awarded orange shields, tokens of victory and attainment of efficiency in the sport . . . Juniors were victors this year . . . squad captained by Ann Nardone consists of Phyllis Bower, Rose Ciccariello, Connie Fanning, Jean Goodale, Betty Harrigan, Pearl Jonah, Catherine Keefe, Louise Shaffer, Connie Wilson . . .

LACROSSE

THE Indians started it, the colleges supported it, Newton High's girls carry it on with eager enthusiasm every spring . . . Lacrosse, one of the fastest and most interesting games in the world, is thoroughly enjoyed by Newton sportswomen . . . The lacrosse squad participated in three Play Days this year with public and private schools of Greater Boston . . . Although recently introduced, sport draws more and more girls every year . . . Lacrosse is one of the best games to develop co-operation and team-play . . . interesting both to players and spectators . . .

THE KILLING OF DAN McFOO

Some of the boys was whoopin' it up in the lunchroom of Newton High;
I could hear the girl at the candy booth
breathe out a saddened sigh.
For all the pupils were eating their lunch,
I saw them bite and chew,
But the puniest, messiest one of the lot
was ignorant Dan McFoo.

Then from over by one noisy counter
next to the teachers' room
There was sort of a muffled explosion,
then out there came with a zoom,
The terror of Newton, the scourge of the school,
the worst one you can meet,
That murderin', rushin', and crushin' killer,
yes, it was "Pushcart Pete."

There was sort of a grin on the killer's puss
as he looked about the place,
And he was glad to see the Fear
on everybody's face;
Then suddenly he blanched in wrath
and breathlessly I knew He'd seen the usual stupid stare
of ignorant Dan McFoo.

A low growl escaped the killer's lips,
with a movement like a cat,
He seized his cart, lined up for the start,
and off he went like a bat.
He circled the room a couple of times
just to get up speed,
Then down he bore with a horrible roar
on the place Dan used to feed.

"Used to," I say, for he is no more,
this hero we loved so well.
We stood around in mourning,
near the spot at which he fell;
After we'd scraped him off the floor,
or rather what he'd been,
We carried him to a refuse can,
and sort of poured him in.

These are the simple facts of the case,
and the moral that it shows,
(This is the one great fact of life,
that every senior knows),
— Never, like Dan, through a careless whim
tie your shoes together when coming out of gym.

(Apologies to Robert Service).

JEREMIAH E. McMAHON

Died May 13, 1940

A period of service characterized by its longevity and faithfulness was begun by Jeremiah E. McMahon thirty-seven years ago, and came to a close when "Jerry," as he was affectionately known by all of us, passed on very suddenly on his way to his place of duty on Monday morning, May 13.

"Jerry" was devoted to the Newton High School, and his first place of duty was in the building then known as the Classical Building, the only high school on these grounds and in Newton at the time. He saw the erection of the Technical High School Building, or Building 2, and the Administration Building, or Building 3, and when the separate schools were consolidated in 1924 he assumed charge of the new building where he always gave faithful and efficient service.

He saw the school grow from 782 pupils and 27 teachers in 1903, to 2,815 pupils and 106 members of the faculty in 1940. Throughout these years he has shown consideration for students and teachers in the same smiling, accommodating way. No task was too great for him to attempt, and his interests were always in the school.

Known to many, respected by all, and admired by those who knew his genuine qualities.

"We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breath;
In feelings, not in figures on the dial.
We should count time by heart-throbs when they beat
For God, for man, for duty. He most lives
Who thinks most, feels noblest, acts the best."

MANSFIELD ACADEMY of BEAUTY CULTURE

The School of Recognition

An enrollment at Mansfield Academy of Beauty Culture is the stepping stone to a successful, independent, and prosperous future.

A minimum of time and a low tuition rate enables the student to master the art of Beauty Culture with very little effort.

Instructors who are experts are available in both the day and evening classes.

Practical training on live models is emphasized and is combined with the required theoretical subjects, special demonstrations, and lectures.

Although Mansfield Academy is the oldest Beauty Culture school in New England, it has ultra-modern equipment and methods. Spacious and well-lighted class rooms lend a pleasant atmosphere.

Graduates of the Mansfield Academy are eligible for the full benefits of the free placement service conducted in the school and use this means of securing a position.

The intensive practical system of training in effect at the Academy prepares the student to meet the most exacting requirements of an employer.
